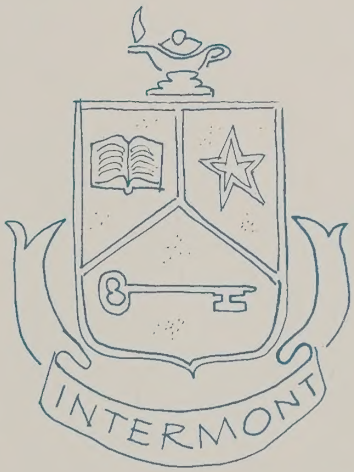
INTERMONT

The INTERMONT



1964

Published by the Senior Class VIRGINIA INTERMONT COLLEGE, Bristol, Virginia

FOR YOU

The peace of great doors be for you.
Wait at the knobs, at the panel oblongs.
Wait for the great hinges.

The peace of great churches be for you,
Where the players of loft pipe organs
Practice old lovely fragments, alone.

The peace of great books be for you,
Stains of pressed clover leaves on pages,
Bleach of the light of years held in leather.

The peace of great prairies be for you.
Listen among windplayers in cornfields,
The wind learning over its oldest music.

The peace of great seas be for you.
Wait on a hook of land, a rock footing
For you, wait in the salt wash.

The peace of great mountains be for you,
The sleep and the eyesight of eagles,
Sheet mist shadows and the long look across.

The peace of great hearts be for you,
Valves of the blood of the sun,
Pumps of the strongest wants we cry.

The peace of great silhouettes be for you,
Shadow dancers alive in your blood now,
Alive and crying, "Let us out, let us out."

The peace of great changes be for you.
Whisper, Oh beginners in the hills.
Tumble, Oh cubs—tomorrow belongs to you.

The peace of great loves be for you.
Rain, soak these roots; wind, shatter the dry rot.
Bars of sunlight, grips of the earth, hug these.

The peace of great ghosts be for you,
Phantoms of night-gray eyes, ready to go
To the fog-star dumps, to the fire-white doors.

Yes, the peace of great phantoms be for you,
Phantom iron men, mothers of bronze,
Keepers of the lean clean breeds.

Dr. Floyd V. Turner

Never before in the history of the world has there been "room at the top" for women in every field of activity. No longer are you relegated to a particular type of life just because you are a woman. This change opens up marvelous opportunities to you, but it also places a heavy mantle of responsibilities on your shoulders. Use this new found "freedom" well. In your relationships with others, be firm but kind; be aggressive but gentle; and above all be honest with yourself, with those whom you love, and with God.

My very best wishes to you as you leave Virginia Intermont.

Cordially,

Floyd V. Turner
President

Dr. Louis H. Taylor

To you who are graduating from Virginia Intermont this year I wish the very best that is possible and right for you to have—today and always. Remember—to have opportunity is to have responsibility; and responsibility is met by action! "It might have been" is for those alone who lack spiritual and moral fortitude to "measure up"—not for you!

Sincerely,

Louis H. Taylor
Acting Dean of the College

Mr. John C. Allred, Jr.

We are pleased that you decided to spend two of the most important years of your life with us. I hope they have been good years. I am sure your future will be more meaningful because of the friendships cultivated at Virginia Intermont and more rewarding because of the experiences shared here.

I would like to wish for each of you much happiness during the years to come.

Sincerely,

John C. Allred, Jr.

SENIOR PROCLAMATION SONG

Though our days at V. I.
Soon will end with goodby
We will still remember
These great years

In our hearts forever
Memories of our days together
All the friends we've made
And times we've shared
Both sad and gay

As her chimes are ringing
Let our hearts keep singing
Of our alma mater
For her truth and honor

Striving for perfection
As we're reaching for a star
We pledge our love to thee
Forever, V. I. C.

JUNIOR PROCLAMATION SONG

We come to V. I. in the fall
Not knowing if we'll belong at all
We see our friends all left at home
They will be there but we must roam.

New faces we see—day by day
New voices hear we—we hear them say
Take off your hat now—you'll find this home
This is V. I. girls—no more we'll roam.

Our troubled times—they seem so few
Our happy moments they begin to bloom
We feel that we are here to belong
The days at V. I. will soon be gone.

There's a time to begin—a time for new friends
There's a time to lift upward and reach for the sky
Though the way may be long and the path not so bright
We'll be ever reaching upward to fight a good fight.

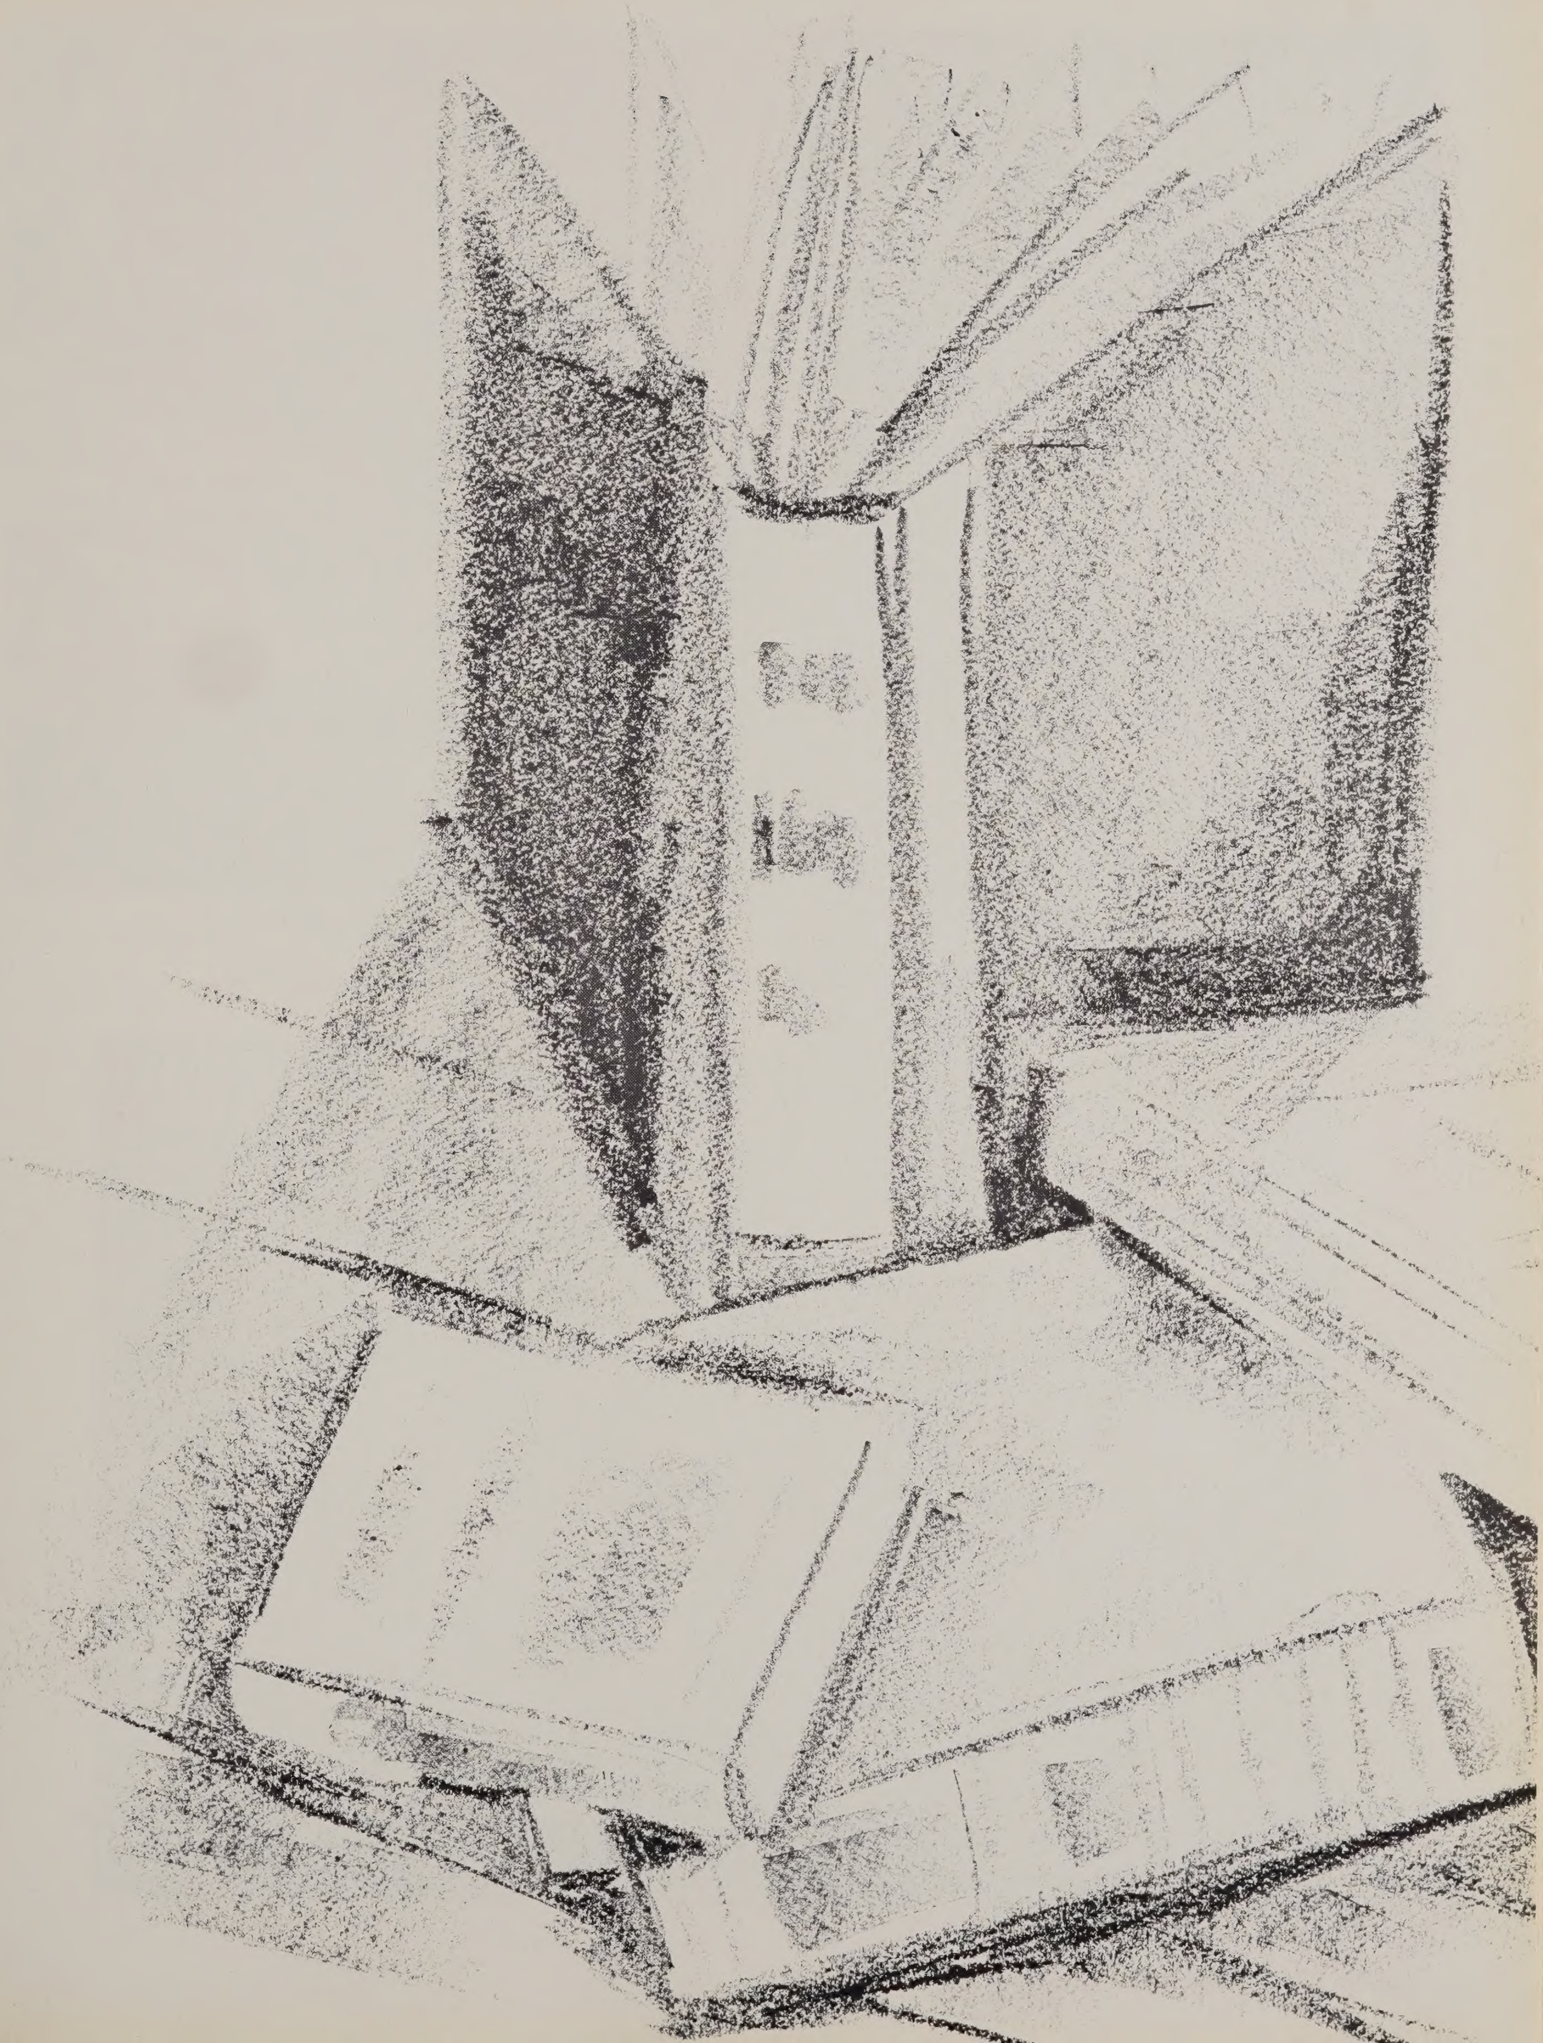
You may say that you've found your home
That you will never ever roam
How will it be when we leave
Thoughts left here and hearts will grieve.

This is the place we're all fond of
Every heart here is filled with love
We are as one—one to behold
    One girl—One heart
Never will our thoughts depart—
V. I. our home.

The peace of great books be for you,
Stains of pressed clover leaves on pages,
Bleach of the light of years held in leather.

STUDIES

Velda Warner



ART

The Art Department is one of the largest and strongest at Intermont. Courses in Fine and Applied Arts are offered for the preparation of career artists or for the general enrichment of the lives of those who study art only as a special interest. Mr. Charles Thompson teaches Fine Art, and Mr. Joseph Ward teaches Applied Art. The emphasis is on the newest techniques and on the modern point of view.

One-man shows of the work of artists prominent in the area are given every month in the large gallery in the Fine Arts Center. Old masters are featured in Sunday afternoon exhibits throughout the year. These exhibitions are made up of items from the C. Ernest Cooke Collection, one of the finest collections on any southern college or university campus.

Student work is always to be seen in the Fine Arts Center, as well as in the Student Center and in the Library.

The Speech and Dramatic Arts Theatre is one of the best-equipped in this part of the country. It is often used as a classroom for Dramatic Arts courses in Masters of the Drama, play production, .directing, lighting, and scenic design under Mr. Ralph Swanson. Full-length dramas, one-act plays, and reading recitals are given frequently.

Mr. Richard May is director of Speech. Courses are offered in voice training, oral interpretation, speech techniques, and parliamentary law. The students often take part in oratorical contests and forensic meets.

SPEECH AND DRAMA

Senior Drama Majors: KAREN FULWIDER, SUSAN STEARNS, SALLY BREWBAKER, JANET HUBBARD, BARBARA LEFCZIK, KAY TAPP.

Warmth and sensitivity characterized the performance of Mr. Robert MacDonald in our Cultural Arts Series.

MUSIC

Miss Eller at the pipe organ.

Talented students, a capable faculty, and fine facilities place the courses in Music high in popularity at Intermont. Individual instruction in piano, voice, and organ, and classes in music theory and history are under the guidance of Miss Frances Eller, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Kelly, and Mr. Ralph Osthoff. Their pupils are presented in recital and on television programs from time to time and in the Spring Festival.

The V.I. Chorus is composed of all music majors and other interested students who pass competitive auditions and maintain satisfactory grades. The Chorus is much in demand for programs both on and off campus, and has an important role in Commencement Activities.

Mary Elaine Day rehearsing in the recital hall with her instructor, Mr. Carroll Kelly.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

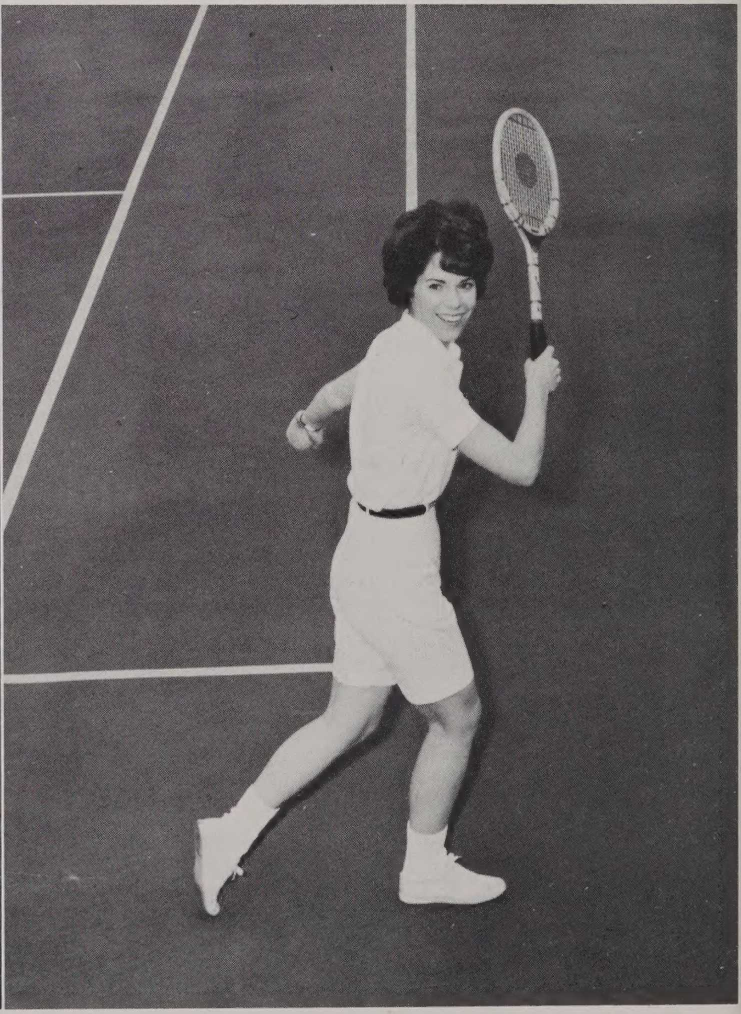
Physical education helps the student to develop skills for worthy use in leisure time and to become engaged in activity conducive to physical and mental health.

Various sports are offered on the Intermont campus, ranging from hockey, basketball, softball and speedball to tennis, swimming, golf, dancing, tumbling, archery, and bowling.

Each year the physical education facilities grow. This year three new tennis courts were added on campus; and, to provide fun in the snow, sleds were supplied.

Departmental instructors are Mrs. Don Smith, Mrs. Beverly Canter, and Mrs. Charles Dickenson.

Jo Ann Vorhees on the archery range.



Shelley Boyce practices her swing for tennis class.

Joan Baker practices her putting on the King College Golf Course.

Karen Hopp and Betsy Barber take advantage of the indoor pool.

Judy Frantz demonstrates her ability with a hockey stick.

Miss Stevens checks Beau's bit as Sandy Chamberlain, Martha Fischer, Liz Mauldin, and Linda Poole look on.

EQUITATION

Intermont's Equitation Department has 21 horses, a regulation show ring, and facilities for bad-weather riding. But to have a good department, there must be more than these material elements. There must be the interest of the students, and the department strives to develop this interest to its fullest extent. Hunt-seat and saddle-seat equitation are taught, and a course in Stable Management and teaching is offered for those who wish to pursue their interests beyond just the improvement of their horsemanship.

A typical scene at the stables of V. I.

Mrs. Milne aids her English students in doing research for term papers.

HUMANITIES

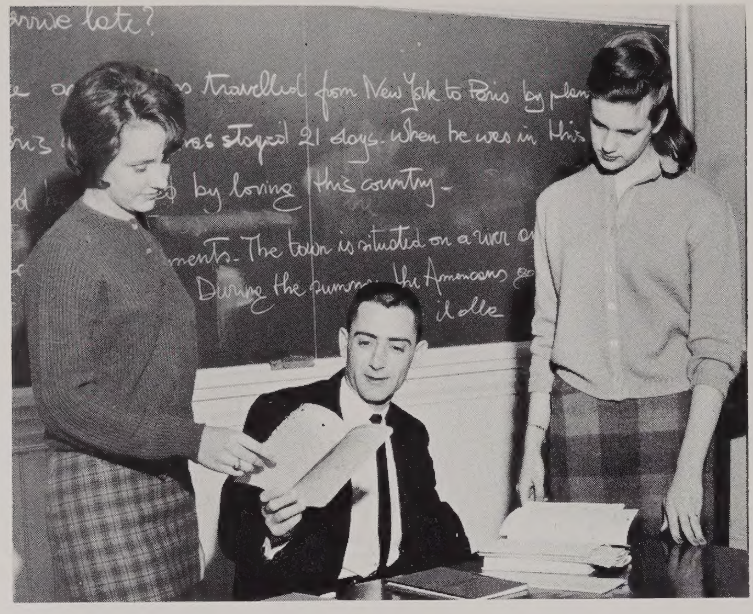
Very few girls leave V. I. without taking one or more subjects under the broad heading of Humanities. These influential subjects are designed to inform and give the student an understanding of both past and present conditions and events which influence the many aspects of life today, and to encourage clear and objective thinking.

Included in the Humanities are classes in religion, psychology, sociology, philosophy, history, economics, and English.

Mrs. Willett points out the locale of a current event to her American History class.

Mr. Tolson stresses the importance of geography in religion.

Students in Miss Coulter's Western Civilization class learn about the history of Europe.



Dr. Riviello hands back a test paper to Georgiana Kemmer; Ruth Withers awaits her turn.

LANGUAGES

The greatest barrier between the countries of the world today is language. Once this barrier is broken, a large part of the problem of understanding and accepting differences is solved. Intermont offers through its language department the opportunity to help break this barrier and arrive at a deeper understanding of people in other parts of the world. Basic grammar, literature, and conversational courses are offered in both French and Spanish.

A group of Spanish students take an examination.

Vicki Minnich and Sandy Monroe making use of the facilities in the cooking department.

HOME ECONOMICS

High standards in homemaking are emphasized in this department. The work is designed to facilitate the student continuing her education for a career in textiles, teaching, nutrition, interior design, or in any one of the many other fields open to her through this study. Primarily, the knowledge gained may be put into practice in her own home.

Aside from the practical training given in the art of homemaking, Home Economics is an important aid in developing traits of womanliness.

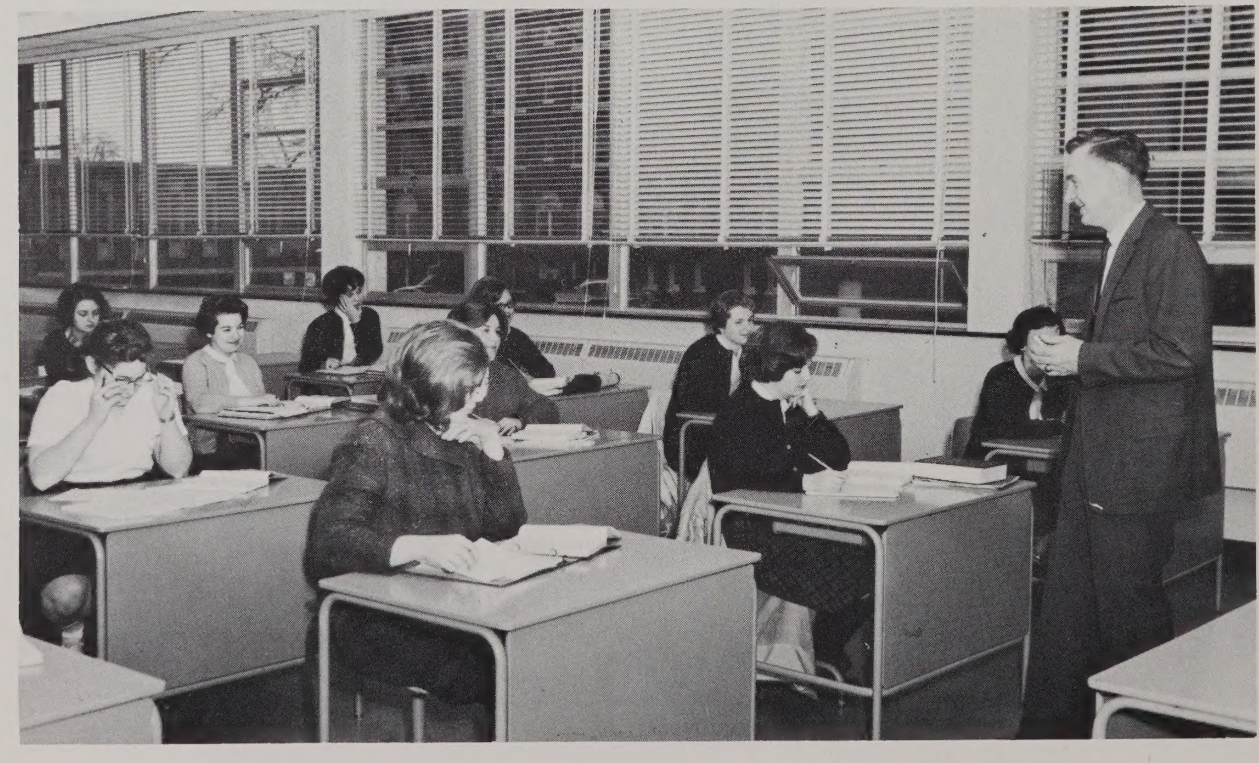
Tricia Laws explains a trigonometry problem to Mr. Buckner.

MATHEMATICS

Although the square of the hypotenuse seems rather confusing to many, Mr. William G. Buckner presents this material to his students as thoroughly and as painlessly as possible.

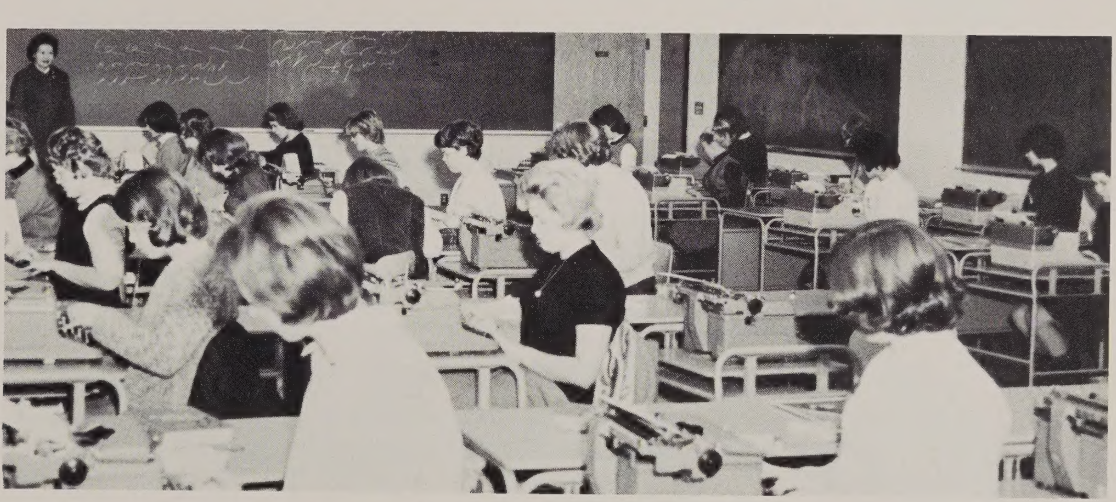
Courses in algebra, trigonometry, calculus, and analytical geometry are offered to aspiring mathematicians, and to girls wishing to develop a firm mathematical background in the careers of their choice.



Mr. Buckner as he explains an equation to his algebra class.

Mrs. Richards gives her class a timed writing.

SECRETARIAL



These girls transcribe a letter dictated by Miss Smith.

Miss Longbrake supervises girls in the use of dictaphones and adding machines.

Two curricula are offered in the Secretarial Department, one in general secretarial training and one in the medical secretarial field. These curricula combine the usual skill and technical courses essential to the qualified secretary with the background in liberal arts and sciences essential to the well-educated woman.

The classrooms for this Department occupy the second floor of the Science Hall where the equipment and facilities are extensive as well as modern.

Effective instruction is provided by Miss Clara Longbrake, Mrs. Jerry Myers, Mrs. Joe Richards, and Miss Mary Lou Smith.

Judy Blair and Pam Eversole in the zoology lab.

SCIENCE

The Science Department at Intermont strives to give its students the needed background for today's rapid forward movement in things scientific—rockets, missiles, satellites, and all the other aspects of the atomic age.

The Department has modern and complete classroom and laboratory facilities in the newly-completed Science Hall. It offers courses in general physics, general biology, general and organic chemistry, anatomy and physiology, and in microbiology.

Becky Myers and Judy Owens in the physics lab.

Miss Haynes goes over chemistry lab procedure with Becky Myers.

Under the direction of Miss Constance Hardinge, V. I. girls learn the art of ballet.

DANCE

Girls who desire a wider knowledge of creative expression, and who have a serious love and appreciation for dance have the opportunity for fulfillment through classes open to them.

Modern, social, folk, and tap dancing are offered on the campus under the instruction of Mrs. B. R. Canter. Ballet students study at the Constance Hardinge School of Ballet.

The study of dance promotes beauty, grace, poise, and enables the student to express her emotions through movement.

The classes in dance are a part of the physical education curriculum.

These girls practice a tap dance routine.

American folk dances and dances of other lands are learned in Folk Dancing class.

Religious Planning Board

The presidents and devotional chairmen of each denominational group on campus make up the membership of the Religious Planning Board. Its main purpose is to coordinate the religious activities of Intermont and to provide spiritual and social guidance.

The Religious Planning Board sponsored the annual Harvest Carnival and the Christmas Party, both for the underprivileged children of Bristol. This year the theme for Religious Emphasis Week was "The Student and the World"; its purpose was to promote faith on campus. The Board conducted the drive of the World University Service, and it held a series of seminars on "The Christian View of Love and Marriage," which were especially interesting and beneficial to all the students. In addition to these special activities, devotions were held twice each week and grace was given before sit-down meals. Under the leadership of Nancy Mulvey, Wilma Schwarz, and Director of Religious Activities, Miss Betty Lee Smith, the Board had a very successful year. One of its most effective projects was the completion of the Fisherman's Room, a place for informal discussions and meetings for the use of the entire student body.

Girls are encouraged to join in discussion in the Fisherman's Room.

FISHERMAN'S ROOM

The Fisherman's Room is sponsored by the Religious Planning Board. Its purpose is to create an informal atmosphere where the students can emerge in dialogue concerning their religious faith.

Discussions in March concerned the Christian view of love and marriage. Other programs included the reading and discussion of religious plays and books.

The room is also used as a small chapel for denominational services.

CANTERBURY CLUB

The purpose of the Canterbury Club at Intermont is to unite the Episcopal girls in a sense of their common denominational allegiance, so that they can better share in the campus-wide Christian fellowship. This purpose has been made much more effective this year through the presence at Canterbury meetings and on campus of the Reverend Charles McNeer—"Skip" to everyone—who is the chaplain to Episcopal students in all the area colleges, and who has become a friend to many V. I. girls of all denominations.

At Christmas, in lieu of a party, the Canterbury members made gift stockings for the children's ward at the hospital. In addition, during the year they have arranged for frequent on-campus celebrations of the Holy Communion, sponsored two study programs, sent delegates to two conferences at the Diocesan Conference Center, and have sponsored Peanut Week—one of Intermont's well-loved traditions.

The CAULDRON

The Cauldron, published monthly during the school year, attempts to bring to the V. I. student a variety of ideas and thoughts in news form. Primarily, it records the events at Intermont and highlights the activities which are of a departmental or campus-wide nature.

Although its first purpose is to present the school news to the readers, the Cauldron has also attempted to reveal the abilities of the students through poetry, creative writing, art work, and other mediums of expression.

The members of the staff, aside from their duties in preparing for each issue of the paper, are active in the planning of the Publications Weekend each spring. Members of the staff are chosen on the basis of their ability and their enthusiasm for newspaper work. Mr. C. Ernest Cooke is the faculty adviser.

Aside from this, it is concerned with intellectual achievement in general, and it strives to stimulate the members to use their talents in service to their fellow students, school, and community. The fraternity sponsors student concerts for Parents' Weekend, Veterans Home, and for graduation weekend.

VIRGINIA INTERMONT SWIM TEAM

Carol Holt, Captain, proudly displays the trophy won by the Swim Team at Maryville College.

Intermont's Swim Team is a new organization on campus for those girls interested in competitive swimming and those who are willing to work hard every day. Swim meets are held at various schools during the spring semester. Tryouts are held twice a year, and members are chosen according to the fastest times in each of the four strokes: butterfly, backstroke, breaststroke, and freestyle.

H$_2$0 CLUB

The H_2O Club elects its members on the basis of skill in synchronized swimming; tryouts are held at the first of the academic year. These talented girls demonstrate their ability through the presentation of an annual water show. By blending hard work with their pleasure in water sport, they provide the public with a remarkable performance of co-ordinated swimming.

This year a swimorama was also conducted by the club in which some events were for skilled swimmers and others were just for fun.

The Areannes is an organization composed of the day students of V. I. They begin the social year by sponsoring the first informal dance in the fall. They are always ready to be of service in acquainting students with Bristol.

One of their projects was the adopting of a Santa Pal.

These students took a trip to Daytona Beach during spring vacation, and have planned a trip to Hungry Mother State Park after graduation.

The Curry Club is an organization open to any student interested in the theatre arts and in speech. Plays performed by the club this year included Almost Too Many, A Cup of Tea, Mistress Bottom's Dream, Career Angel, Hansel and Gretel, and Pinocchio. Intermont's theatre provides an ideal atmosphere and ample opportunity for the development of creative interests.

There has been a revival of interest in debating, too, this year. East Tennessee State University, King College, and Emory and Henry College were among the institutions in the surrounding area that were challenged by Intermont's debate team.

DELTA PSI OMEGA

Delta Psi Omega Fraternity is a national honorary dramatics fraternity for junior colleges organized for students interested in the theater.

Membership is obtained through successful participation in public dramatic performances, backstage work, and management activities.

The coveted Delta Psi Omega award is presented at the end of each year to the girl who has done the most outstanding work in the Drama Department.

JUNIOR MEMBERS

Ellen H. Richards Home Economics Club

The Home Economics Club, open to any girl who takes a Home Economics course, strives to promote pleasant, wholesome social affairs and to combine business interests with education. Its programs this year have included an interesting group of speakers who have developed the theme that a home economics background can play a definite part in making a girl better-qualified for participation in various businesses and professions.

The club has also engaged in many interesting community activities, especially worth mentioning being its active participation in the work of the Girls' Club of Bristol.

Under the direction of Miss Barbara Frogge, the Student Activities Committee is composed of the presidents of the various organizations on campus. These girls plan and organize many of the social and cultural entertainment functions for the college.

This year it brought the Virginia Military Institute Glee Club to Intermont. It has sponsored trips to East Tennessee State University to hear the Christie Minstrels and to V.P.I. for dances. It has also sponsored Charm Week.

Orchesis is a newly reorganized club for the extensive study of the techniques and expression for modern dance.

Membership requires that the student audition before the adviser, Mrs. B. R. Canter, and the officers, and be a student in the modern dance classes.

The highlight of the club year is the Spring Recital given in April.

ART CLUB

The Art Club is one of the newer campus organizations, but it has been a busy one. When the Art Department presents one-man shows, the Art Club plans a reception honoring the artist on the first day of his show. Members have participated in several club socials, including a Christmas party which featured various forms of folk art. A responsibility of the club this year was the planning and execution of the scenery and decorations for the H_2O Club water ballet. The work displayed a rainbow motif.

Membership is open to any student who desires an opportunity to develop and promote an appreciation of art.

During the school year the Association sponsors the annual Song Contest as well as intramural programs in speedball, volleyball, basketball, and softball. These activities help each girl to widen her range of human understanding and to work with her classmates for a common goal.

The association also presents a banquet in May for the entire student body.

BOOTS AND SADDLE CLUB

The Boots and Saddle Club, open to all riding students, meets once a month for a business meeting. These meetings are followed by fun in the form of games, horsey quiz-bees, stories and poems about horses, and movies.

Highlighting the year's activities were the fall gymkhana, the Christmas party, the annual banquet, and the horse show in the spring. After the Horse Show the club had a reception for those parents who were present. An outstanding event was the club-sponsored trip to the Kentucky Derby in Louisville.

This year the club has 100 per cent membership. That is, each girl taking riding has joined the club, and many are doing remarkable jobs to make the club one of the most successful on campus.

The students have two outstanding organizations which make the service and atmosphere very pleasant in the dining room.

Members of the Pinafore Club are employees of the dining room. The club sponsors the election of "Miss Pinafore," who is the girl the student body feels does the most service with a smile.

The Foods Committee represents the student's voice for the bettering of the food service.

Mr. Robert Brown, the Director of Food Service, is always ready to cooperate with these groups.

Periodically, they meet with the fire wardens from Sullins; and, under the direction of the Bristol Fire Departments, they are taught how to use fire equipment.

The fire wardens sponsor chapel programs during Fire Prevention Week and are members of the Southwest Virginia Firemen's Association.

Presenting The 1964 May Court

The May Queen and her Court are those members of the Senior class whose beauty, grace, charm, and character have won them the respect and admiration of the student body.

Elections for the 1964 May Queen and her Court began early in January. From the group nominated as May Queen, Margaret Easley received the high honor. Lanea Baker, runner-up for the Queen's title, automatically became Maid of Honor, as is the custom at Intermont; the other candidates for Queen automatically became members of the Court. Judy Long was elected the Queen's Crown Bearer, and Vicki Minnich and Sandra Homolish were named Heralds. Additional nominations, eliminations, and eventual elections named eleven more ladies to the Queen's Court.

May Day is traditionally held during Commencement Week and serves as a climax for the non-academic side of life at Intermont.

President Turner informs Karen Lawder, Miss Pinafore 1964, of her title.

MISS PINAFORE

Miss Pinafore is chosen by the student body as the most pleasant and helpful of all the dining-room girls.

MISS CHARMING
Sydney Wharton

As a climax of Charm Week, judges Dr. Jack Smythe and Mr. W. W. Fanning selected Sydney Wharton as Miss Charming for 1964. She was judged upon the basis of appearance, poise, and personality.

APPLE BLOSSOM PRINCESS Barbara Nuckolls

Barbara represented V. I. in the Apple Blossom Festival, which was held in Winchester, Virginia, April 30 - May 2. Lynda Baines Johnson, daughter of President Lyndon Johnson, reigned as Queen.

JUNIOR SWEETHEART

Each year the Junior Class selects a girl who is attractive, charming, and poised to represent them as their Sweetheart. Marilyn Greene was crowned Junior Class Sweetheart at the Sweetheart Dance in February.

Last year's Queen, Jane Coldren, crowns Marilyn as her escort, Joe Arnold, looks on.

King Charles Owens crowns Queen Judy Frantz.

HARVEST CARNIVAL QUEEN

Each fall the Religious Planning Board sponsors a Harvest Carnival for the children of the Janie Hammitt Home. This Carnival features games, cake walks, apple bobs, and other traditional Halloween fun. The children from the Home are the honored guests.

The Board nominates several students as candidates for Queen, and several of the men faculty members are named as candidates for King of the Carnival. Pennies are used as votes and the voting gets quite exciting.

Queen Judy Frantz and King Charles Owens were crowned this year, and all the children from the Home acquired college girls and their friends as foster parents for an evening of fun and frolic, which the students enjoyed as much as did the children. In many cases the girls have continued their interest in the children originally "adopted" only for the evening. Thus, the Carnival effectively serves a double purpose of providing an evening of fun and of developing a sense of responsibility toward the world's needy.

The peace of great changes be for you.
Whisper, Oh beginners in the hills.
Tumble, Oh cubs—tomorrow belongs to you.
